Dear valued customers and partners:

We, Swiss Formula, hereby pledge that the products related to Beautybac postbiotics powder strictly comply with national and international food safety regulations and standards.

We solemnly declare:

This product contains no genetically modified organisms (GMOs).

The ingredients we use are derived from non-GMO materials, and we have implemented stringent supply chain reviews and controls to ensure the non-GMO nature of our raw materials.

Effective segregation measures are taken during the production process to prevent any potential cross-contamination from GMOs.

Throughout the production, processing, storage, and transportation, our products have not been in contact with any genetically modified organisms.

We conduct regular non-GMO testing on our products to ensure they meet relevant regulations and consumer expectations for non-GMO food products.

We pledge to continue providing safe, healthy, and superior postbiotic products, upholding consumer interests and health.
